Terms of Use

1. All materials posted on this site are subject to copyrights owned by ACDS or other individuals or entities.
2. Any reproduction, retransmission, or republication of all or part of any document found on this site is expressly prohibited, unless ACDS or the copyright owner of the material has expressly granted its prior written consent to so reproduce, retransmit or republish the material. All other rights reserved.
3. The names, trademarks, service marks and logos of ACDS appearing on this site may not be used in any advertising or publicity, or otherwise to indicate the organization's sponsorship of or affiliation with any product or service, without ACDS' prior express written permission. Although this Web site features links to other sites, ACDS takes no responsibility for the content or information contained on those sites, as we do not exercise editorial or other control over these sites. This Web site provides information and services in furtherance of our mission.
4. Inclusion of resources or references to them does not constitute or imply endorsement or support by ACDS.
5. Views and opinions expressed in any document referenced from ACDS do not necessarily state or reflect those of ACDS.
6. The information provided for educational or information purposes only. It is not intended to provide legal or professional advice whatsoever and should not be relied upon in that respect.
7. Under no circumstances will ACDS be liable for any damages relating directly or indirectly to any action or inaction based on the content, information, products or services or other material available through us.
8. ACDS will not be responsible for the accuracy, currency or completeness of the content, information, products or services or other material obtained through us. We make no representations about the suitability or accuracy of the information on this site for any purpose. If you see any objectionable, inaccurate or improperly functioning content or features on this site, please contact the System Administrator via email acds@acds.ca as soon as possible.
9. ACDS respects the privacy of visitors to its Web site. To protect online privacy, the organization has implemented the following policy. About the Information We Collect - Most of the data and information we collect through our Web site is used only to help us achieve our mission. It is our policy to collect and store only personal information that our Members knowingly provide. From Casual Web Site Visitors and General Users - We do not collect any personal information from users browsing our Web site. When you use the public areas of our Web site you are doing so anonymously. We do collect aggregate use information, such as the number of hits (visits) per page. We use aggregate data for internal and marketing purposes, but we don't collect any personally identifying information. From Our Members and Other Customers - If while visiting our Web site you order a product, register for a conference, submit a question, or request other information, you will be asked to provide certain information. In all cases this information is submitted voluntarily. In most cases, we ask users to provide their name, title, organization name, address, telephone, and e-mail.
